

Increases in air travel, trains, gasoline and cigarettes

Governed since yesterday; ranging from 3.8% to 100% fuel in the San Martín Railway ticket, passing 12% average tickets

May 27, 2014

In a context of high inflation, and the International Labor Day, yesterday began to govern different magnitude increases in several areas, ranging from fuel and train tickets to domestic flights and cigarettes.

In the case of the train, the rate increase was applied exclusively in the San Martín Railway-linking Pilar Retreat with just a week after the Government materialize the replacement of old cars with new formations of Chinese origin. The premiere will then be an increase in the rate of one hundred percent. After 12 kilometers set with the first section, which until the last day in April and spent cost 1 peso now cost two dollars, the values of the passages will be from this month three weights (up to 36 km) and four pesos (over 37 kilometers) whenever you pay with UP card.
